A SECOND MORTGAGE.
Home improvement without wrecking your budget.

This is the time of year when a lot of us start thinking about adding on a room or two to the old place. Or completely redecorating. Problem is that it costs a lot of money. And while you can afford to pay for it over the long haul, you just don't have that much money at one time.

There's an easy solution: a Central Fidelity Second Mortgage. With the equity you've been building up in your home you can borrow money for home fix-up, or any good reason. And you can take as much as ten years to repay.
Talk to a Central Fidelity Loan Officer about your money needs. And improve your home without wrecking your budget.

Questions, answers

Each year we have some new questions that we've never had before. Some of these questions I'm going to share with you this week may be some that you've had for a period of time and would like to have an answer for.

Ques.: Home canning cauliflower is a good way to beat high cost of a favorite vegetable, but sometimes it turns pink. What causes it to turn pink and is it still safe to eat?

Ans.: When cauliflower turns pink it means the produce is just overly mature. The taste is still good and it can be safely served.

Ques.: For years when home canning tomatoes, pickles, dill beans, etc. every once in a while some batches will turn bluish looking. They are still crisp and taste fine. But what makes them turn blue?

Ans.: Blue vegetables can happen anytime garlic is used that has not been thoroughly dried. Garlic turns blue first and then turns the content of the jar blue, also.

Ques.: Last year's corn looked beautiful when it was canned. But now the corn has turned brown in the jar. What has happened?

Ans.: There are three possible causes of "browning": 1. Corn that is too mature; 2. Corn that is processed at too high a temperature; 3. Corn that is canned with too little liquid. For best results when canning any fruit or vegetable, always use fresh, young produce and process as quickly as possible.

Ques.: Sometimes when canning tomatoes or tomato juice the pulp and water separate. What can be done to prevent this?

Ans.: Tomato and tomato juice separate because of the breakdown in the tomato enzyme. It happens when the tomatoes or juice are prepared and allowed to stand too long before being put in jars. Separation is not harmful. It just looks bad. A good guideline is to prepare only enough juice for one canner load at a time and process as quickly as possible.

If you have a food preservation question or problem, you may call us at 352-8244 or write us at P. O. Box 488, Appomattox, Va. 24522. It is always a pleasure to hear from you and to help you.

Have a good week!

Recipe Of The Week
Zucchini Bread
(2 loaves)

1 cup nuts (optional)
4 eggs
2 cups sugar
1 cup vegetable oil
3 1/4 cups flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 - 3/4 tsp. baking powder
2 cups grated zucchini
1 cup raisins
1 1/2 tsp. soda
1 tsp. vanilla

Beat eggs, add and beat sugar. Add oil. Add dry ingredients with zucchini, add raisins. Grease and flour pans. Makes 2 loaves (regular size) or 4 small loaves.

Bake in lowest rack at 350 degrees for 55 min.

Thanks to Jeanne Clabough for this delicious and nutritious bread.

Because of many requests and a bountiful crop of zucchini, we are sharing this with our readers again.

Goin wins contest

The Women's Committee of the Farm Bureau sponsored the "My Farm" poster contest at the annual Farm Bureau picnic held on July 30 at Fred Jones' lake.

Five young people participated in the contest.

Allen Goin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goin, was first place winner and he received a cash award of $10.00.

Angela Harris, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harris, was second place winner receiving $6.00.

Kim Krantz, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Krantz, was third place winner receiving $3.00.

Jack and William Harris, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris, entered posters in the contest, also and each received $1.00.

Allen's poster, as first place winner will be taken to the Farm Bureau Convention this fall.

"We are glad these young people participated in the contest and hope more will plan to enter a poster for next year," said Mrs. Margaret Glover, of the Women's Committee of the Farm Bureau.

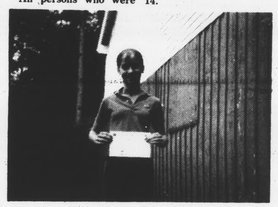
The poster contest is held annually at the Farm Bureau picnic.

Appo. Assembly to meet

The Appomattox County Assembly will hold special meeting August 14 at 8 p.m. in the home of its Vice General Secretary, Mr. Milton Chambers.

Mr. Chamber's home is located on State Rte. 616, approximately 1/4 mile from Canaan Baptist Church.

All persons who were appointed to serve on the Railroad Day Committee are asked to please be present. Also, everyone who is selling Assembly tickets is asked to please report on this project's progress. Annie Humbles, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, will receive these reports Aug. 14.



"CAMPER OF THE WEEK" for the week of July 26th through the 30th is Leah Worchel. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Worchel of Greene County. Leah received a half scholarship to return to camp next summer because of her outstanding qualities. Leah exhibited her talent for dancing and her ability to get along with others.

Team ministry & tent making

By William L. Trimyer
TEAM MINISTRY AND TENTMAKING
Lesson for August 15, 1982
Bible Study Passages: Acts 18:1-4, 18:21; Romans 16:3-5a

INTRODUCTION

The notion of "call" has often been a sticky issue in the Christian tradition. Many people have traditionally interpreted a "call from God" as a divine mandate to throw in the "business towel" and become a full-time servant.

Our lesson for this week reveals how the Lord may use people from all professions and vocations to serve him in the world. Some of the best ministers in the world are lay-ministers. They are often better than the "real thing!" The ordained minister is subject to a "ministerial discount," that is, he or she cannot reach a certain segment because of their positions and stereotyped reputations. The lay-minister is often in a unique position to share the Gospel in both deed and word.

Priscilla and Aquila were business people who also made themselves available for ministry. They used their personal and vocational circumstances to become partners in ministry with Christ.

The priesthood of believers implies that all followers of Christ may become a part of the team ministry that he calls each of us to do.

Partners in Vocation Marriage, and Ministry [Acts 18:1-4]

Priscilla and Aquila functioned in a way that couples might do well to take notice. They shared a great deal in common. They worked together in their tentmaking business, they served together in ministry, and they lived together as husband and wife.

In our society it is very easy for two people in a marriage to go their separate ways and not share much in common. Marriages are generally much more meaningful and enduring where couples share together in work and play. It's also generally true that couples who share in an active church membership tend to have the happier marriages.

Priscilla and Aquila shared in ministry with Paul, for he, too, was a tentmaker. These three blended their gifts into a "symphony" of ministry.

FELLOW TRAVELERS [Acts 18:18-21]

Not only did Priscilla and Aquila share in ministry with Paul, they likewise traveled with him to different mission points. Their willingness and ability to travel with Paul indicates that their business was such that it would survive in any "port of call." There was always room for another tentmaker.

Their willingness to pull up roots and move to a new location says something significant about the commitment Priscilla and Aquila shared for the Gospel. They were willing servants who made personal sacrifices to do what they felt the Lord wanted and needed from them.

The key to doing the ministry of Christ is in making oneself available. We do not need to wait for a specific call; we can simply offer ourselves for service. In time we will discover our gifts of ministry and use them to the glory of God and for the help of people.

SACRIFICIAL SERVICE [Romans 16:3-5a]

Paul had a deep affection for Priscilla and Aquila. On other occasions in his letters he would ask the recipient to greetPriscilla and Aquila his "helpers in Christ Jesus."

These two people had obviously risked a great deal to proclaim the Gospel and to hang around with Paul. After all, he wasn't the most well-liked person in the Roman world.

It is interesting to note that Priscilla and Aquila opened their home to become a meeing place for the church. They opened their doors for those who wished to fellowship and worship. This, too, had its risks.

We may learn from Priscilla and Aquila, namely, that we should strive to have a home in which no one who enters our door should leave feeling like a stranger.
